

Employer Set Project Task 1

Lesson 2
Organising the literature review

ETFFOUNDATION.CO.UK

Using the template

Using the following template can help you to gain maximum marks in task 1. The template will help you to structure and organise your literature review to make sure that you cover all the points that are required. The template is a useful tool. Have a look at the copy of the template.

Reference	Relevance	Reliability

During today's lesson, you are going to practise using the template by doing a mini literature review. The topic of the literature review is:

The hazards associated with staining techniques in histology.

Work your way through the following tasks.

Task 1

Look at the topic of the literature review. Identify the keywords and make sure you understand their meaning. It is these keywords that you will be looking for when you skim and scan.

Task 2

You are now going to search for some sources. However, you must find sources that fit the following categories:

a) A reliable source

b) An unreliable source

c) A relevant source

d) An irrelevant source

e) A source that is both reliable and relevant

Task 3

Now put the sources you have found into the template. Make sure you use the columns to justify the relevance and reliability of each source.

Reference	Relevance	Reliability

Task 4

Now compare the sources you selected with those that others in the class found. Have a group discussion about what you found. Did you find the same sources? Do you agree on the relevance and reliability of the sources?

Be prepared to share your findings with the class.
